A: Darkest Dungeon Description In the near future, an apocalyptic virus wipes out all but one-hundred and twenty-five people. The survivors (known as the Dark Below) are forced into an underground city called the Abbey, where they live in misery and fear of the monsters who roam the ruins above. Every four years, the Abbesses pick a new group of adventurers to enter the city and travel in search of treasure, to bring back to the Abbey. Spectacular Sparky is an action-packed platform/shooter with wacky characters, explosive weapons and boss battles to treasure. Sparky is an adorably insane intergalactic bounty hunter who can dash through obstacles, fire his weapons in any direction and even extend his jumps by flapping his long space-rabbit ears. Each time he brings down a boss, his connected confidante Shigg (half shark, half pig) is ready to point him in the direction of yet another space fugitive. In the grand tradition of irreverent 1990s video-game heroes, Spectacular Sparky is as sassy as he is fearless. His voice-acted wisecracks and sarcastic jabs tend to get under the skin of his enemies in a most amusing fashion. And his universe is awash with spikes, lava, buzzsaws, super-saturated colors, slick parallax scrolling and mega-driven music, the way every game ought to be. Features • A modern homage to the golden age of white-gloved 16-bit video-game mascots • Dozens of delightful story scenes featuring full voice acting and a host of outrageous characters • Five challenging worlds with 24 levels, each with a bombastic boss battle at the end • Five powerful weapon types, including blasters, flamethrowers and homing missiles • Five unique vehicles that Sparky can pilot, including a spaceship, hang glider and lava jet ski • Five difficulty settings, from Supercasual to Supernightmare • Three game modes (What?! What's new in Illum:

Bundle for Steam and Origin Jay from Take-Two talked about this upcoming NA vehicle skin pack, including the Twitch Drops that will continue through April and drops from 11/11 11:59am (EDT). They have many great items, including a new zoomed-in with targets and deployable turrets system. The new Player Vehicle Boost item allows you to boost your vehicles for 2 minutes. The whole team was amazing when they took the stage, and I would love to see them in the SummerSplit this year. They said that they asked the team to come up with ways to solve long time performance issues on PC such as ping, and overcompression of frames, 2-3x. Also added to Armory items like the Armory for vehicle Mods.

- The redesigned UI (click the inventory after boosting!)
- A bunch of HUD Improvements, including USER_MOUNT_ITEM to know you are currently riding a mount.
- ESP system will display new difficulty, the current one is the most accurate without any sense of blind spots.
- The team was obsessed with keeping the complexity to 1-2x to avoid the loss of ever-improving AI.
- New map editing interface - The team spent an insane amount of time building this feature (Last I checked it was last week, hehe)
- New Supply system (just what did that cost?) with a big ribbon to indicate how many Plats are in "full supply".
- New Skillframe interactivity (Blizzark this time)
- Robbing! There will be many different ways to rob...well that's all the Q&A for now, there's a lot to go over in the DLC. Some super sweet discounts this weekend too. Heroes of the Storm - General The compendium is complete, and the top five items, as well as the most recent sets have been announced. The Lost Vikings set is out of the five set! That means the Darkblade Skin, the Frostwolf Warrunner Skin and the Phalanx, which is probably the most endearing and quirky of the group, are all going to be in it. It's probably the most unique and most interesting set. There's the Rafflesia set with all of the different skins in it, and the Shadow Hunters set has all of the skins for all the heroics. I would say you have to watch more Heroes gameplay
