Ocster Backup Pro is an advanced and intuitive software solution developed specifically to offer you an efficient means of backing up your most important data, so you can prevent total information loss in case of a system failure. When launching the tool, its main window allows you to choose the preferred action, between 'Create New Backup Plan', 'Manage Backup Plans', 'Restore Backup' and 'View Backup Reports'. In order to 'Create New Backup Plan', you need to select which items you want to include, either your whole computer and entire hard disks, or just specific folder and files from your system, while also listing a series of advantages and disadvantages for both. For starters, you will need to select a backup location and enter a name for it, then opt for the preferred format: 'Standard', which will place the data in archives or 'Simple', which will basically copy the files. Next, you can manually choose which folders you wish to backup, along with the data from the most used applications and specific file formats ( TXT, Word, PDF, XLS, PPT, CSV, MP#, WMA, AVI, MP4, and many others), adding the targeted directories by hand. Similarly, you can exclude certain file extensions or folders from the operation. Optionally, you can encrypt the generated file using a password of your own making, selecting an encryption algorithm and the compression type. Afterward, you can set the preferred time interval for the backup to occur ('Daily' at a user-defined hour, 'Weekly', on a certain day of the week or of the month). Following a few other simple steps, you can save the backup plan and execute it whenever you need. To conclude, Ocster Backup Pro is a comprehensive and efficient program that makes all data backup operations a breeze, saving you a lot of time and effort, while also enabling you to always have your important information handy, even in crisis situations. This invention relates to the field of automatic meter reading systems, and more particularly to an arrangement for easily determining the location of an automatic meter reading (AMR) probe within a multi-zone metering system. In an AMR system, a probe is used to determine the utility usage on an industrial plant by measuring the utility usage at a series of utility meters. The probe is then connected to a network interface which collects the data from the probe and transfers it to a data processing system. The data processing system processes the meter data and stores it
